Jesse Krieger

Writing a book is hard. Getting published is harder.

The majority of entrepreneurs believe having a book would take their business and brand to amazing places. But so few actually write and publish that book. They're confused by the publishing process and never get started. Jesse clears those barriers by teaching entrepreneurs how to publish a book they'll be proud of and turn it into their best business development tool.

A trusted authority

"I really appreciate you leading the way. You're doing a great job, and can't think of a better place for me to be, launching my first book, than with you."

— Joy Taylor, Best-Selling Author of INSPIRED: 7 Wisdoms of a Soul Inspired Life

"The way everyone came together at Book Expo to support each other ... it was the family experience I was looking for in a publisher."

— Carla Vergot, Author of Lily Barlow: The Mystery of Jane Dough

"I'm not sure there's another team out there that could have met the timetable and quality we worked so hard to create."

— Ryan Michler, Best-Selling Author of Sovereignty & Founder of The Order of Man
